Saugerties, May 2—Many thousands of persons including residents of the village and townships and large delegations of county visitors lined the streets on Saturday to witness one of the largest Loyalty Day parades ever assembled in the Hudson Valley.

Many hundreds of marchers with the seven drum corps marching units heading each of the seven divisions of the parade traveled the more than two mile route to Cantine Memorial Field where Loyalty Day ceremonies sponsored by the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034 VFW were conducted.

THE PARADE began at 2 p. m. led by a car carrying members of the Lt. Charles A. Vroman Camp 129, United Spanish War Veterans of the Catskill-Saugerties area.

Then followed the Miss Loyalty car, an innovation this year, carrying Miss Judith Ann Miller, recently elected to reign as Queen for the day as Miss Loyalty of 1955.

Following was the VFW Color Guard and the parade marshals which included John J. Wood, Sr., and John Utter of the local VFW Post. Honorary marshals included Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams wearing his Legionnaires' hat as a member of the Lamoree-Hackett Post.

CARS WITH Mayor Arthur F. Simmons and the village board of trustees preceded the first musical unit, the Father-Harty Drum Corp. Then followed the VFW and Marine Corps League, Ulster Detachment colors, members of the local VFW Post, Auxiliary and the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans.

Completing the first division was the Gold Star Mothers' car and the Loyalty Day Essay winners float.

The second division was headed by the Athens American Legion Drum Corp and a contingent of Legionnaires of the Lamoree-Hackett Post, Saugerties.

ALWAYS A popular feature, the 40 and 8 Engine and the Washington Hook and Ladder truck of the Saugerties Department completed the division.

The third division was led by the Port Ewen Drum Corps and following them were the Boy Scout troop and Cub Scout Packs of the Saugerties District Boy Scouts. The DAR car and the R. A. Snyder Fire Company truck of Saugerties followed.

The Fourth Division headed by Mac's All Girl Drum Corps created a lot of interest by their antics. Following them came the Camp Fire Girl and Blue Bird units of the Saugerties Council. The C. A. Lynch Hose Company truck and the Malden.

Spray Expected Soon in Moth Eradication

Airplane spraying for the eradication of gypsy moth infestation in Ulster county is expected to start this week and will continue four to six weeks, according to an announcement today by the N. Y. State Conservation Department.

C. A. Beecher, of the New York State Conservation Department, Division of Lands and Forests, 32 Main street, who will supervise the program locally, told The Freeman today that it is expected the spraying will begin this week. The planes were expected to arrive today, he said, and additional equipment must be moved in before the spraying gets underway.

THE PROGRAM, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the New York State Conservation Department, is part of the eradication and control program in the fight to preserve the forest of New York and adjacent states from the ravages of forest pests attacking many of our timbered lands.

The gypsy moth has caused severe damage to hundreds of thousands of acres of woodland in New England, resulting in loss of timber, damage to watershed and nuisance to recreational areas. It was discovered this past fall and winter to have spread into this area.

ALTHOUGH light and scattered, it involved some 50,000 acres in the towns of Ulster, Kingston, Marlborough, Woodstock, Hurley and small parts of New Paltz and Rochester. The area to be sprayed has been carefully surveyed to locate all hazards the pilot must avoid such as mink, turkey and poultry farms and any obstructions.

Bill Is Signed Making Judge Job Full Time

Governor Harriman has signed the bill making the office of County Judge of Ulster County and Judge of the Children's court a full time position.

Under the provisions of the law the county judge will no longer be permitted to practice law in a court of record or act as referee. The law also provides that the Ulster county board of supervisors shall fix the compensation.

Under the old law the salary of county judge was fixed by law at $7,000 and the board of supervisors fixed the salary of the Judge of the Children's Court. That salary has been $1,200, making the combined salaries $8,200 but the county judge was permitted to practice law in any court.

THE BILL calling for the county judge's position to become full time was introduced in the Assembly by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson and in the Senate by Senator Arthur H. Wicks. The Wicks bill was substituted for the Wilson bill in the Assembly and passed both houses.

The term of County Judge John M. Cashin expires on December 30, 1955, and he has announced that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Judge Cashin served from 1943, when he was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of J. Edward Conway, and was elected to the office in 1944 and has since served as county judge and judge of the Children's Court.

Police Kill One Today, Stop Other Third Fugitive Still at Large

Moira, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—State police flushed two desperados from a farm near Hopkinton today, killing one and seriously wounding another.

Frank (The Hook) Talarico, 44, of Ulster was killed and Ralph La Shomb, 29, of Potsdam was wounded.

There was no word on a third fugitive the troopers were seeking.

FOUR MEN escaped last Wednesday from the St. Lawrence county jail at Canton, 30 miles southwest of this northern New York county.

Leonard Caskinette, 24, was captured Friday near North Lawrence, when troopers shot it out with the jailbreakers. A trooper was wounded by a fugitive's gunfire then, but not seriously.

Troopers said Talarico and La Shomb were shot on the Collins Farm, two miles west of Hopkinton, a small hamlet on Route 11E.

THE SCENE was about a mile from the swampy woods where 150 troopers had been concentrating over the weekend.

Troopers had been checking houses and searching the woods in this northern New York area. A farm hand had reported early today that two men knocked on his door around midnight and asked for bread and cigarettes.

THE FARMHAND, whose name was withheld, said he slammed the door in the men's faces. He said he thought one was a Lashomb.

Four men broke out of the St. Lawrence county jail at Canton, 30 miles southwest of here, last Wednesday.

One man was captured and a state trooper was wounded in a gun battle Friday afternoon. The three fled into a swampy, wooded area.

About 150 troopers are leading the search task force concentrating in a triangular area of about 15 square miles. The sector is about 20 miles south of the Canadian border.

Insurance Firm Praises Firemen

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy today reported the first letter of commendation received by the local department from an insurance company.

Hardware Mutuals, of New York wrote, in reference to a recent fire at Vale's hardware store, 672 Broadway:

"THE ABOVE insured has reported to us a small fire loss. Our insured has reported to us that this loss is small only as a result of the prompt action on the part of the firemen, who responded to the call, in covering the insured's stock with tarpaulins. Thanks to this prompt and intelligent action, a larger loss was averted. We wish to express our appreciation to your department, and especially to the individual firemen, both for themselves and on behalf of our insured. We thought you would like to know that your good work has not gone unnoticed."

THE CHIEF had also received a letter from the proprietor of the hardware store thanking him and the department for keeping the fire loss low. The chief said he recalled no other similar letter of commendation from an insurance company during his years in the fire service.

Survival City, Nev., May 2 (AP)—The Atomic Civil Defense experiment, whose 5,800 participants and observers have dwindled to less than half because of repeated delays, has been postponed once again.

The elaborate test of a model town, tanks and weapons now cannot be held until tomorrow at the earliest, and the Atomic Energy Commission says the outlook for then is not good.

Two burglaries, an attempt at entering a diner, a car theft, and two apparent attempted car thefts were reported to the police over the weekend.

THE STOLEN car, owned by Patrolman Harold Bowers, of 71 Lafayette avenue, was reported taken from in front of 119 Linderman avenue. He reported the theft at 8:55 a. m., Sunday.

THE THEFT of $50 from Buckley's service station, East Chester street, and an attempted theft at the WB Drive-in next to it, were reported early Sunday. St. Paul's Church on Hasbrouck avenue was reported entered, money was taken from two coin boxes, and two cars were reported tampered with and moved from where they had been parked.

Officers Floyd Krom and Michael Mazzuca reported at 2:27 a. m., Sunday that Buckley's gas station had been entered. About $50 in cash was taken from a shirt pocket, they said. Entrance was gained through a rear window, and blood stains in the place indicated that someone had been cut or otherwise injured.

A WINDOW was found broken at the diner, now operated by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hogan, of 49 German street. The diner was not entered, but it is believed that the person who bled at the service station suffered the cut.

Teener Charged With Homicide in Mistake Slaying

New York, May 2 (AP)—A smiling, cynical youth gang member was held today in the slaying of a 15-year-old model boy whom he mistook for a member of a rival gang.

Frank (Tarzan) Santana, 17, was charged with homicide in the death of William Blankenship Jr., an honor student and high school football star.

The killing broke the slain boy's father, a civic leader and fighter against juvenile crime.

Said William Blankenship Sr., a research chemist:

"WE'RE GOING to take the boy to Pennsylvania—where he was born in the Blue Poles—and we're going to put him into clean dirt."

"Then we're going to leave this city. We're whipped. We've been caught and crushed."

A group of teen-aged girls cheered Santana as he was taken to a police station yesterday for fingerprinting and photographing.

"I love you, Tarzan," shouted one of the girls.

SANTANA LAUGHED and triumphantly shook his handcuffs.

Police said young Blankenship was cut down by a bullet from a foreign-made automatic fired by Santana Saturday night in the Bronx. Blankenship was on his way to the movies with a friend.

Police quoted Santana as saying he thought Blankenship was a member of the "Golden Guineas," a gang feuding with his "Navajos" over the use of a similar "uniform"—a black-and-yellow zipper jacket with a picture of an Indian on the back.

Santana also claimed that a group of "Golden Guineas" ganged up on him last week, just because he was wearing such a jacket, police said.

Gun Club Sells Katrine Land to Ulster Tool

Sixteen acres of land on the Neighborhood road in the town of Ulster has been sold by the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club to two local businessmen, it was announced today.

The purchasers are Frank Falatyn of Kingston and Anthony Pizzarelli of West Hurley. Falatyn is president and vice-president of the Ulster Tool and Die Corp., 437 Washington avenue, and Pizzarelli is secretary-treasurer of the same company.

Pizzarelli said today he and Falatyn had discussed several possible uses of the land but had "no particular plans" at present.

THE PROPERTY lies about a quarter of a mile north of the new IBM plant.

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, which had maintained the parcel for club activities, including the operation of a hunting preserve for members on adjoining lands leased since 1937 from landowners, announced the purchase of the Van Wagenen farm of approximately 180 acres located in St. Remy, town of Esopus.

A club spokesman said it was planned to have a modern skeet and trap field at the new location, along with a modern clubhouse and facilities.

THE LAND, along with adjoining properties, will be posted. It will provide almost 400 acres of hunting preserve for club members.

Work on the project will begin soon, it was said.

The Lake Katrine Club has been very active in recent years, particularly in its stocking of game. The ladies auxiliary is also active and has played a vital role in club activities and clubhouse improvements.

IT IS ANTICIPATED that the skeet and trap field will be completed this summer. Several shoots are planned for the fall.

Officers of the club are Roland Post, president; Charles Senior, vice president; Joe Duncan, treasurer; Leslie Hotelling, financial secretary, and Craig Plough, recording secretary.

Hits Foes In Attack To Mop Up Mortars Shake City in Drive

Saigon, South Viet Nam, May 2 (AP)—Reassured of American support, Premier Ngo Dinh Diem struck anew today at the shrinking private army of his foes at home and at Chief of State Bao Dai, who is watching the Vietnamese turmoil from the French Riviera.

Four battalions of National army troops stormed over three bridges leading to areas of the Chinese suburb of Cho Lon where two battalions of the Binh Xuyen held out in civil warfare that flared last week. The government objective was to mop up those men and permit five battalions which have deserted the Binh Xuyen, a commercial society which seeks to oust Diem, to switch to the army's side.

A MORTAR barrage that shook the city heralded the attack after 48 hours of relative quiet.

The government troops quickly captured the old headquarters of Binh Xuyen commander, Gen. Le Van Vien. They moved southwestward to the Nui Thien Duong bridge, two miles away, where a bitter battle was joined.

A French press agency dispatch received in Paris said the National army has wiped out the last nests of Binh Xuyen resistance in Cho Lon and all fighting in the area has ceased.

DIEM BEAT down an attempted coup at the weekend and launched a fresh offensive against Bao Dai.

The premier's office announced a National Assembly would meet here Wednesday to depose the absentee ex-emperor who tried unsuccessfully to oust Diem last week.

DIEM ISSUED the announcement after conferring with U. S. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, President Eisenhower's special envoy who returned by plane from Washington today. Shortly after the general's arrival, U. S. Charge D'Affaires Randolph Kidder told newsmen at the airport American backing for the anti-Communist premier still stands.

Bid Is Called High for O & W By Rail Expert

New York, May 2 (AP)—George T. Carmichael, senior vice president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, testified today that a bid by the line to buy the bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company property in 1952 "free and clear" for $3,500,000 was withdrawn later because the New Haven considered the price too high and the cost of rehabilitation prohibitive.

Carmichael testified at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on proposed plans to sell the Ontario railway for $4,600,000. The ICC last January 1 estimated the value of the railway at $57,400,000.

Carmichael, who was subpoenaed to appear by the bondholders group opposing the sale of the line, said the New Haven's offer to buy the railway was made in October, 1952, and was withdrawn May 1, 1953.

HE SAID the board of directors of the New Haven withdrew the offer for various reasons, including the belief that "the price was too high" and that there was a need for a "tremendous expenditure" to rehabilitate the bankrupt railway. The witness said that dealing with the bankrupt line offered "legal impediments" and added that the New Haven would prefer to deal "with anyone who might acquire the assets of the line."

Carmichael said he could not recall conferring with Samuel M. Pinsly, head of a Boston group which offered to buy the road for $4,600,000 before the New Haven withdrew its bid.

oppose strongly any move to oust Bao Dai. They had reinstated him as chief of state in 1949. Rarely a resident of the country since the end of World War 2, the ex-ruler has been at his chateau on the French Riviera for the past year.

(THE FRENCH news agency in a dispatch from Saigon reported today that remnants of the rebel-Binh Xuyen private army, which in a two-day civil war last week tried unsuccessfully to overthrow Diem, had repented fire with mortars today on national army posts near Cho Lon, the Chinese suburb of Saigon. A later French dispatch to Paris said Diem's army at 5:45 p. m. Saigon time attacked "several hundred" Binh Xuyen troops in Cho Lon.)

Diem's office said Bao Dai would be deposed by a "states general" assembly to be made up of provincial councilors from South Viet Nam's 39 provinces.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT said the assembly had been summoned by the national revolutionary committee of 13 political parties and 35 Vietnamese leaders. The committee had bitterly denounced Bao Dai Saturday as a French puppet and said he must be deposed.

Diem's office said the premier's cabinet and the national army had approved the assembly call.

The premier was closeted for an hour with Collins soon after the U. S. envoy arrived. Collins also reiterated that the United States supports his government. The premier said results of the talk were "excellent."

LATE IN THE afternoon, four battalions of the National Army headed by Col. Nguyen va Minh, commander of the Place De Saigon, stormed over three bridges leading to Binh Xuyen areas on the other side of the Chinese arroyo. There was slight resistance from rearward units of Gen. Le Van Vien. The government objective was to mop up two Binh Xuyen battalions and permit five battalions that have deserted Vien to come over to the army.

Soon after Collins conferred with Diem the premier received Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner for southeast Asia.

But not since the crisis began nearly a week ago has he talked with Gen. Paul Ely, the French commissioner general.

Appoints Taft Supporter

Washington, May 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower's appointment of a long time supporter of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft to head up foreign aid was viewed today as a bid to smooth the rocky road this program faces in Congress. The President will meet with congressional leaders of both parties tomorrow to discuss the 3½ billion dollar foreign assistance proposals. Whether John B. Hollister is present or not, what used to be the Taft wing of the Republican party evidently was delighted with his appointment.

Schools to Need 8,100 Teachers

Albany, May 2 (AP)—Wanted: 8,100 teachers.

The New York State Education Department says the jobs will open next fall because of increasing enrollments and teachers leaving the public schools. By 1960, the department estimated yesterday, an additional 7,700 teachers will be needed and 10,000 more will be wanted five years later.

THIS YEAR, about 94,200 teachers are working in the public schools of the state. The department figures that 3,050 new teachers are needed for the elementary grades and 2,350 for the high schools to replace those leaving the service this year. Because of added enrollments, 1,100 more are wanted in the elementary grades and 1,600 in second schools.

Planes will operate from an airstrip at Accord, and operations will begin each day at daybreak, when the air is usually calm enough so that the spray will properly drift in for best effect, and will continue each day until rising winds or air currents prevent further operations for day.

Merger of Unions Means Strong Political Front

(Editor's note: The scheduled merger this year of 15 million CIO and AFL workers means organized labor will be in a position to plan steps of magnitude and importance not seen in America since early New Deal days. Here's the story behind the proposed merger and what aims the new federation will try to achieve, first of a five-part series.)

BY DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Organized labor is preparing to march in a new and potent labor "crusade" after the merger of the AFL and CIO into a single, 15 million-man federation. And businessmen are uneasy.

Chief of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations are mapping drives on two major fronts once the merger is completed later this year—

1. On the political front they will organize their forces to rally the labor vote in an unprecedented effort to elect labor's friends, defeat labor's foes, and achieve more favorable labor laws on both the federal and state levels.

2. On the organizing front their plan is to bring millions of new members into the union, particularly from the ranks of white collar workers and from industries in the southern states where union strength now is weakest.

But these twin moves are in themselves merely the means of reaching the ultimate goal of forging a strong position for labor in bargaining.

Not since the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt gave organized labor its great boost with passage of the pro-labor Wagner Act in 1935 have the captains of union labor made their plans in terms of such potential magnitude and importance.

With the merger, they hope to put aside internal feuding and achieve a single-purpose unity which will give labor the most powerful voice it has had since the 1937 rift which drove the AFL and CIO apart.

BUSINESS LEADERS already are talking of the threat of a "labor monopoly" and the need, as they see it, for more restrictive labor legislation—particularly by the states.

There is concern on some fronts, too, that organized labor's future moves may mean more rather than less labor-management strife as organizing efforts are stepped up in industrial areas where unions now have a relatively weak hold.

The two key men in the union planning are George Meany, president of the 10 million-member AFL, and Walter Reuther, president of the 5 million-member CIO. Meany will become president of the merged group. Reuther will continue to head the CIO group within the new federation and will direct the organizing campaign. The name of the merged group is yet to be chosen.

Meany said in a recent interview: "I'm extremely optimistic. I think that after the merger we really will get going. We plan a definite organizing campaign in which we will be able to do it without the complicating factors created by union rivalries."

"I'D SAY we've been spending three fourths of our organizing energies in fighting each other. And this has meant a tremendous amount of energy wasted. But we'll iron out our differences one way or another and with the merger, labor will speak with one voice."

Reuther has told his unions: "I believe if we can instill in this (merger) situation the kind of spiritual crusading spirit that we had in the early days we can launch the kind of organizational drives that will electrify America, get workers marching again, get the kind of dynamic forces in motion that characterized the period in which CIO was born."

Both these men rose from the ranks to gain their positions. Both are implacable foes of Communists in labor. Both have shown extraordinary skill in politics and organizing. And both are convinced labor should be united as an active political force.

UNLESS SOME unforeseen block develops, Meany and Reuther will lead their unions into the merger by the end of the year. The executive councils of both AFL and CIO have approved, but the councils' action must be ratified by separate conventions and then by a joint convention. These may be held in New York in December.

While merger plans go forward, the old lion of organized labor—John L. Lewis—sits on the sidelines giving no hint of what course he may take with his 500,000 United Mine Workers, affiliated with neither the AFL nor the CIO. He has been at odds with Meany and Reuther for years.

But Meany and Reuther are going ahead without Lewis. And their ambitious program reflects the position of power and influence which organized labor has achieved after decades of conflict—often bloody conflict.

AFTER THE New Deal came to power, Congress passed the Wagner Labor Relations Act giving workers the right to bargain collectively through agents of their own choice, which meant the unions. It outlawed certain unfair labor practices, and protected workers from employer coercion.

Labor hailed the act as their "Magna Carta." With this act Congress, the wheel had turned. Organized labor was in a commanding position for the first time. And labor leaders moved quickly to take advantage of a favorable climate for organizing—supported by a sympathetic administration.

Then in 1937, the CIO and AFL split apart in bitter disagreement over organizing methods and the CIO changed its name to the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

BUT DESPITE feuding, the AFL and the CIO prospered. Then the pendulum swung against the unions at least part way. Sentiment in Congress hardened against them. In 1947 the unions' virtually unrestricted freedom won by the Wagner Act was curbed by a Republican-controlled Congress. The Taft-Hartley Act was passed with conservative Democratic support.

This act, in part, bans the closed shop in which only union members may be hired; makes unions liable for unfair labor practices and subject to suit for violation of a contract; out-seconds boycotts by which a union strikes indirectly at another employer; and puts restrictions on the union shop in which a nonunion worker may be hired on agreement that he will join the union shortly thereafter.

Since the passage of the Taft-Hartley law, a good many states have passed their own restrictive legislation aimed at curbing union activities.

Now the unions are planning their counteroffensive. (Next: Political intentions.)

Television Fans Can Look Ahead To Better Days

New York, May 2 (AP)—Television viewers who like to bring in distant stations have better hunting ahead.

WE'RE ENTERING an 11-year cycle of high sunspot activity that should result in more frequent TV reception at distances of 1,000 miles and more. There even may be rare instances of interference on American sets from British signals, and vice versa.

But don't plan on being able to tune in a station at the opposite end of the country at any given time.

"It will be like looking for meteors," says Robert Shelby, engineering vice president of NBC. "You're more apt to see one when the earth is passing through a meteor shower, but you can't predict just when."

AS FOR CHANCES of picking up a program from the British Broadcasting Corp., Steve Tobey of the BBC's New York office says you couldn't, even if you got a pretty good signal.

The technical standards are so different the signal wouldn't produce a picture on an American set. But Tobey concedes that on the lower channels in the United States there may be rare instances of BBC signals causing some interference.

Unless you make a hobby of it, long distance TV reception is best left to the times you chance across a picture on what's usually a blank channel on your set, otherwise, you can waste a lot of time with scant results.

Small Increase Is Forecast in Food

Washington, May 2 (AP)—A small increase in the next few months in the general level of retail food prices was forecast today by the Agriculture Department.

The department said part of the rise will come from seasonal shifts in supplies of individual foods, but that extra pressure probably will be exerted by the effects of the freeze and wind damage to fruits and vegetables and by strong consumer demand.

"THE OUTLOOK for food supplies is such as to make the price increases fairly short-run," the department said.

Indications point to some increases in prices of fresh and processed vegetables, potatoes, eggs, pork and some cuts of beef, the department said. Price decreases are looked for in dairy products, poultry and fish.

The department said consumers can look for lower prices for fresh vegetables, potatoes and fresh fruits by midsummer when normal supplies become available.

Prices received by farmers are not expected to change much, on the average, in the next few months.

Javits Joins Harriman On Regulation of Gas

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits has joined Gov. Harriman and the State Public Service Commission in urging Congress to continue federal regulation of the price of natural gas.

Javits telegraphed the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce Saturday declaring that "regulation is urgently needed."

The committee has been holding hearings on a bill that would exclude natural-gas producers from the price-fixing jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission. The governor and the PSC expressed opposition last month.

The Attorney General said the average field prices of natural gas distributed in the state had risen from 7 to 12 cents per 1,000 cubic feet from 1952 to 1954.

He asserted that enactment of the bill would result in further increases which would have "unconscionable effect on the price paid by the ultimate consumer."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—America today is contest-crazy.

For every person trying to get rich quick by buying wildcat oil or uranium stock, there must be 10,000 seeking to end all their money problems by winning a big national prize contest.

There are scores of these contests going on all the time, and the prizes are getting so magnificent the sponsors are scratching their heads trying to think up bigger and better ones. So far neither the Statue of Liberty nor the New York Yankee baseball club have been put up as contest prizes, but don't bet they won't be.

REMEMBER THE dear dead days when college boys swallowed goldfish and men nosed peanuts up Pike's Peak for pure glory? Not any more. Contests now have to pay off in hard cash.

The Horatio Alger hero of yesterday got ahead by hard work. But the hero of the modern contest world is the guy who in a single evening wins a world tour, a furnished home and a life income of $500 a month.

He does it by sending in a box-top on which he has scribbled in 25 words why he likes "Blotto, the new wonder-absorbent breakfast food."

THE GOAL no longer is to strive and succeed. Why save up for a trip to Paris when it is so much easier to win it by breaking the bank, identifying the mystery tune, solving the puzzle, or entering a contest to name a new seductive perfume?

Personally, I entered one of these contests to name a perfume, got nowhere, and now have sworn off being a contestant for life.

(Editor's note: What name did you suggest for the perfume?) (Boyle's note: "Snooty"—and I still can't see why I didn't win.)

But the contest mania has become so widespread it is ruining social life in this country. People are so busy filling out box tops they no longer have time to talk.

THE CRAZE also has infected the business world. In some offices the white collar dreamers are so busy filling in boxtops or contest labels they have no time for their regular tasks. I heard of one annoyed employer who put up a sign on his bulletin board: "A prize of $10 will be paid this week to the first employee found working at the job he's being paid to do."

After a week he removed the sign. There had been no takers. The prize was too small.

THIS GRABBING philosophy has divided the land into two new classes—those who sponsor contests, those who enter them. Since I now am too proud to enter anymore contests, I have decided to sponsor one of my own—an exciting contest that demands both skill and dexterity and will add to any entrant's education by improving his understanding of nature.

So I hereby announce it—an international competition to see who will become the first person in history to milk a live lady polar bear.

TO THE BEST of my knowledge it has never been tried before (but we can't let the Russians beat us to the punch in this, can we?).

The rules of the contest are simple:

1. The polar bear must be awake and undrugged at the milking hour.

2. All milking efforts must be attempted in an atmosphere of mutual good will—that is, as mutual as the polar bear will allow.

3. Each entrant will assume personal responsibility for all medical expenses entailed, including any claims for damages registered by the polar bear.

4. Entrants will provide their own polar bears.

5. The winner will receive international recognition but no cash prizes (although he will be allowed to retain the milk if he chooses).

ENTRANTS MAY object that this doesn't sound like much of a contest. But our main purpose here is to put contests back on a sound, commonsense basis of good old-fashioned fun. They won't have to mail in a box top—or write a 25-word essay on "Why I enjoy milking polar bears."

ATOMIC MERCHANTMEN

If work were to begin immediately on the atomic powered merchant ship proposed by President Eisenhower it would be at least two years and perhaps longer before it could be completed. Nevertheless the very announcement of an intention to build such a craft sounds a hopeful note.

When the ship is finished President Eisenhower proposes to send it on an around-the-world peace mission as a demonstration of what man can do with atomic energy if he turns it to peaceful uses.

Much emphasis has been placed on the destructive potential of atomic and hydrogen weapons as a reason to avoid war. This emphasis is justified and understandable but it is essentially a negative approach. Progress has been made in the search for peaceful uses for atomic energy but the evidence of that progress has been undramatic compared with the demonstrations of the damage it can cause.

An atomic powered merchant ship, one built to perform the regular peaceful function of such a ship, could be a symbol of all the progress that has been made in our efforts to live with atomic energy instead of perishing by it.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Some curious thinking has been brought out at the senatorial hearings on campaign expenditures, directed by Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., of Missouri. The two party national committees were represented by their chairmen, and agreed on one point. The present limits on expenditure are entirely too small and should be raised. Then there would be less violation of the law.

If this line of thought were carried further, there would never be any violation if the law set no limit, just as trials for burglary would cease if this were no longer punishable. Excessive expenditures are only part of the problem. Secrecy as to methods by which campaign funds are raised is another objectionable situation.

If all campaign contributions were reported, we might judge better whether amounts should be limited. They are not all reported now. And mere raising of the limit can accomplish nothing except to give politicians a freer hand.

PROMISE IN CHILE

An area in Chile some 200 miles south of Santiago is an effective demonstration of what can be accomplished by our technical assistance program.

The effort in Chile has been to improve agriculture and this has been done in many ways. The program is an integrated one which aims not only to improve crop production but to build roads, develop farm communities, form cooperatives and raise health standards as well. Cattle have been vaccinated against hoof and mouth disease, chemicals have been employed to kill weeds, irrigation projects have been started and water storage tanks have been built.

The work has been on a comparatively small scale. It is a pilot project, one which we can study to test its effectiveness and one the Chileans can observe to see how agricultural improvements can pay off.

We have had several dramatic demonstrations, notably the Red secure of power in Guatemala, or what can happen when backward countries stay backward. The good work being done in Chile and in Latin America is the best answer to the question of what we can do to help prevent such occurrences in the future.

WARREN CLOSED THE DOOR

When Chief Justice Earl Warren was named to the Supreme Court in 1953, he said he was putting politics behind him. Apparently the political speculators didn't believe him, so recently he had to say it again.

This time he used language that should be convincing even to the most skeptical. He said the decision to forget politics is final and irrevocable and he will not change it "under any circumstances or conditions."

By closing the door on politics, he asserts forcefully a fact that has tended to become

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
LADY AND THE TRAMP

To get onto a serious topic for a change, my dog, Joe, will not be admitted to a movie theatre, although, from what I see going on in such places, he would behave better than many. And it is too bad, because Joe would enjoy Walt Disney's "Lady and the Tramp," because this is as sweet and fine a melodrama as the limited mind of a human could conceive.

The book was written by Ward Greene, a Southerner who moved North and got himself subverted by H. L. Mencken and such medievalists, but who somehow retained a capacity for understanding dogs which is the mark of the gentleman. I do not know much of Walt Disney's ancestry but of all who try to produce amusement on the screen, he is the most humane, avoiding the tricks of making humans act like dogs which they cannot do without stooping to the vulgar. Not that dogs are vulgar, but their imitations always seem to be.

"Lady and the Tramp" is a delightful melodrama in which the heroine, Lady, is a sweet young spaniel and the hero a gentleman of confused parentage but of philosophic mien. He is a tramp who finds foraging and pilfering and evading the dog-catcher not only necessary for survival, as he is not hand-fed on kennel rations, but joyous because he does for himself. The Tramp is a free enterpriser who takes what he can get where he can get it, according to his own rules of social and moral conduct. Naturally, he is a great fighter, as all must be who make their own way in the world.

He and the Lady hook up through the circumstances that some humans prefer cats, which is a subject that we shall leave to those who understand such things. The Lady finds herself in the umbrageous situation of being driven from her own hearth and home in which, however, remains the Baby.

Now, no matter what humans do to dogs, the dog is everlastingly loyal. That is the one quality of dogs that man must envy. Only humans fold their own nests, others of the living world realizing how wicked such things can be. A dog would sooner die than betray his Master or Mistress or their Baby. Humans there are who even betray their country, or turn up their noses at old friends and relatives, or who change their names or sometimes their faces—but a dog is loyal.

And so the great dramatic struggle takes place between love and loyalty. Lady goes back home and is put in the dog-house and is chained up, which only a human can do to a dog. And the Tramp is desolate but what can one do with a Lady?

However, the Rat comes on the scene and imperils the Baby, and Lady is hysterical because of her great love and loyalty. And the Tramp hears her barking and comes to the rescue and a terrible battle ensues in which loyalty conquers and the Rat is killed.

Would it were so among humans, who, unfortunately, often permit the Rat to triumph because there is no sense of loyalty and virtue has been drained away in a service to false gods. The ways of humans are so obscure and are so usually senseless that dogs must have a hard time understanding them, although the Tramp does rather well.

We always say of dogs, "If they could only talk!" So Walt Disney lets them talk by means that are his alone. And they not only talk but sing. And if anyone ever heard an interperate barber-shop quartette sing "Home, Sweet Home," he is in for a nostalgic treat when he gets a chance to see "Lady and the Tramp." For here is fine singing of the ancient kind, not the groaning and moaning which the humans like to call music these days.

Nay, these dogs have somehow caught the spirit of "Mid pleasures and palaces though we may roam," and for anyone who is not a sullen teen-ager discovering anew what Adam and Eve learned from the serpent—this is grand singing.

So altogether a wonderful time was had by all except the fat lady who loved Siamese cats when American cats would do as well, as anyone knows. Oh! and the Rat. He died.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
COMMON DISEASES OF THE LUNGS

It still seems appalling to think that atmospheric pollution, under appropriate weather conditions, killed 4,000 persons in 14 days in the great fog of December, 1952, in City of London. It should make the whole world alert to the dangers of pollution of the atmosphere, which results mainly from unburned carbon and other substances in coal together with sulfur gases. Dust and fumes at places of work are other great causes of diseases of the chest.

Dr. H. Joules, in the British Medical Journal, points out that enough is now known of the cause of the major lung diseases of bronchitis, pneumonia, cancer and tuberculosis to make their prevention possible in a community which is aware of the simple facts about these ailments. He feels that it is by altering conditions at places of employment that we can hope to get the greatest improvement. In the great coal-consuming plants—electricity, gas, transport—we should attempt to extract the sulfur gases from the smoke, thus producing much less visible smoke.

Such industrial processes as mining, pottery, foundry work, cotton-spinning and quarrying are taking a huge and avoidable toll of lives. It is essential to emphasize that the first effort of inhaling dust or poisonous fumes is to produce cough. Satisfactory air conditions at work will have been established when it can be shown that no cough is produced after at least five years exposure.

Dr. Joules believes that an annual X-ray examination of all miners and their families for the next five years and the immediate treatment of any infectious case would probably do much to eliminate tuberculosis. He also feels that the danger to health from cigarette smoking should not be overlooked and the possibility of cancer of the lung in any patient who has smoked for 20 years or more should always be considered. "There is much to commend annual chest X-ray examination of all who continue to run this risk and who are 45 years of age and older. The insistence on frequent X-ray examination will also bring home to the population and the government the need for preventive action."

During the last century there has been great progress in getting rid of the intestinal diseases, such as typhoid, cholera and dysentery. More spectacular progress can now be made in ridding the population of diseases of the chest. This challenge is a personal one and a national one.

A Star to Steer By

Washington News Notebook

Washington—(NEA)—Ever since Ike announced that he would wear a black Homburg hat at his inauguration there has been black Homburg trouble in this town.

First there was a shortage. But now the big problem which has developed is getting the right one back from the coat room.

And that isn't easy. With thousands of men checking and unchecking thousands of identical black Homburgs, the result is a lot of ill-fitting headgear.

Latest victim of this city-wide game of musical hats is Sen. Clinton Anderson (D., N. M.). When he left a Georgetown cocktail party the other night he came away with a size 7½ instead of his own 7½.

When his office checked next morning they found one of three men probably had it, finally narrowed it down to the former speech writer for Harry Truman, Clark Clifford.

Arrangements were made for the return swap, but they misfired. At last report Anderson was getting used to the smaller size and was debating whether or not to ever return Clifford's black lid.

ITALIAN PRIME MINISTER Mario Scelba was the most enthusiastic sight-seer ever to hit Washington. In fact, he nearly missed his train to New York after a three-day jam-packed visit.

Scelba headed for the station with less than a half hour to spare.

On the way, the Prime Minister asked to be taken by the Capitol and Supreme Court buildings so he could see them illuminated at night.

When Scelba's car at last rolled up to the special side entrance at Union Station, the train was about to pull out. But the curious visitor still wanted to see the huge waiting room.

With seconds to go he finally climbed on board and waved goodbye.

"We certainly appreciated his interest," said a relieved U. S. official, "but it's a wonder he ever got away."

WHEN WALTER REUTHER president of the CIO and United Auto Workers, made a speech at the National Press Club he got written questions from the audience.

One asked, "What will be the name of the combined CIO-AFL?"

Reuther held the paper up to the light and examined it. "I am just looking to see whether this was George Meany's handwriting," he quipped.

AFL President Meany roared with laughter.

A SELECT 200 of the capital's residents went to continental the other night you would have thought it was April in Paris. Leading the fun were Senators J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) and Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) and their wives.

It was a wine-gurgling party put on by La Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevin. In simple English that means the Wine Tasting Society. Nine cases were broken out and the happy throng sipped over $1,000 worth of fine red and white vino. The affair was in honor of the new French Ambassador, Maurice Couve de Murville.

MURVE'S THE LATEST Washington wisecrack in connection with statements about war in the Far East: "If the Chinese Communists don't attack by April 15 and make Admiral Curney look good, they'll be paper tigers."

A look at the January 31, 1955 statement shows how wrong many are. On that date the company had cash of over $23,000,000 and government securities of $304,000,000. Current assets totaled $690,000,000 and current liabilities $82,000,000. Working capital was more than $600,000,000.

Montgomery Ward's balance sheet in recent years has made it look more like a bank than a leading merchandising concern. And the statement reveals, when one reads between the lines, the ultra-conservatism of the management in recent years.

During the terrific economic expansion of the United States during the last two decades, when leading corporations have taken advantage of cheap money conditions by borrowing heavily, Ward has not only not borrowed but has piled cash high.

THIS POLICY stems from the belief that with costs and prices high, it has not been good policy to expand.

Considering Ward's annual volume (it has averaged one billion dollars for the years 1950-1954 inclusive) and the small size of its capital structure (6,502,378 common shares) the equity shares have been disappointing. And, as I have said, prejudice is partially to blame.

NO. 1 ITEM of conversation in military circles is the ban which Defense Secretary Wilson has slapped on any outside writing for magazines or books by military personnel. About the time the order came out, a major story by Mrs. Nathan Twining wife of the Air Force Chief of Staff, appeared in a national magazine.

This inspired a big conference in the Pentagon as to whether the order also applied to writings by the wives of military men. Tentatively, the Pentagon says, wives can write all they want to. But there may be more detailed regulations on the question later.

THERE'S ROMANCE in the office of Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

About the time Weeks noticed a gorgeous new receptionist at his outer office, he also heard everyone around the place whistling and humming the Irish tune, "Too-Ra-Loo-Ra-Loe." When Weeks' curiosity overcame him he asked what it was all about, and they explained:

"The new receptionist is Lorraine Bell and they call her 'Lou.' She's secretly engaged to an attorney in the Patent Office by the name of James Tura."

Invitation of Menon as Chou's Mediator Is Considered Bad News for U. S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Paris, May 2—Announcement that Krishna Menon has been invited to Peiping by Chou En-lai to arrange for talks with the United States on the Formosa question is bad news for America. For Menon is perhaps the shrewdest ally the Communists have roaming around the free world. It was he who engineered the sell-out by the West in Indo-China at the Geneva Conference last year, and it is he who is believed to have a strange but powerful influence over India's Jawaharlal Nehru.

Krishna Menon is everywhere moving mysteriously behind the scenes. He holds the title now of permanent representative of India at the United Nations, but actually he is as much at home in London with the diplomats there as he is in Moscow. Menon once tried to run for Parliament in England, and today has some influential relationships with the Socialist Labor Party in Britain.

MENON'S REPUTATION in the United States has been not as good as he would like it to be, for he is aware of the distrust that exists with respect to his peculiar kind of diplomacy. Accordingly, he has tried to cultivate American friendships in the financial district in New York and in State Department circles in Washington. He has to some extent antagonized some of the people from India who reside in America, and they speak openly of his friction with other members of the Indian diplomatic colony.

When Menon appeared at Geneva last year during the big conference on Indo-China, he was frequently in the company of Chou En-lai. He sought and obtained conferences with American officials, who maintained a cautious reserve with respect to his proposals.

IF MENON is going to be Chou En-lai's mediator, it merely means that he is going to play the Red China game. For he dislikes America's policy and has not hesitated in private to express his contempt for it. The amazing thing is that Menon is accepted in Britain. But at the moment British policy inclines toward the very thing Menon would try to accomplish—namely, the evacuation of the Chinese offshore islands by the Nationalists, who are expected to be pressured to abandon those areas at the behest of the United States.

On paper, the solution which will be proposed will look plausible. It will involve some sort of declaration whereby Red China does not give up her claim to Formosa but will for the time being hold it in abeyance until some international tribunal—not necessarily the United Nations—works out a plan for the acquisition of Formosa by Red China's government.

CURIOUSLY enough, Britain has indicated that, if there is a cease-fire around the offshore islands, she will join in some kind of general statement urging that force shall not be used. But, at the same time, there is not probability that the Eden government will dare to pledge that British military force will be used to protect Formosa in case of attack. On the contrary, the most that will ever be forthcoming is a declaration by the United Nations or a group of nations concerned with the Far East that force shall not be employed.

All such pledges are not worth much, because they cannot bind the Chinese Communists, who will always find an excuse to threaten to use force to gain control of Formosa.

A PLAN has been cooking in Washington to reassure the Nationalists by sending to Formosa a regiment of American marines in what is described as a "token" force. But this will not sit well with the American people, who do not want American boys engaged in any Far Eastern defense measure unless British and French troops and those of other nations are stationed there, too. But, just as happened in Korea, it may well be that in the end Americans would furnish the bulk of the force and there might be a "token" representation from the armies of other countries.

THE INTRIGUE which will start in Peiping under Krishna Menon's guidance will certainly embarrass the United States government, which will be compelled in the face of opposition from Britain to recede from the stand taken last week by President Eisenhower, who said there would be direct talks with the Chinese Communists only with respect to a cease-fire for the offshore islands area and that anything relating to Formosa would have to include the Nationalists. This is an easy one for the Menon technique. He will hold talks with the Chinese Reds and with United States representatives, and he will expect the latter to hold their own conferences with the Nationalists.

It is perhaps too early to predict a "sell-out" or a new Munich, but anything in which Menon is engaged could easily find that way as far as the United States is concerned. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

San Francisco, May 1—I continue the presentation of the fraudulent prospectus by which Franklin D. Roosevelt persuaded the electors of 1932 to trust him with the presidency.

This is historic news to most of Americans today. It lies in many libraries and newspaper morgues, but I will bet you never read it in school nor, for that matter, anywhere else.

In my previous chapter I got down to the promise to "cut expenses" of government and the implied reproof of Herbert Hoover and Calvin Coolidge, the Yankee nickel-bender, for extravagance. Roosevelt was going to balance the budget, a trick never yet accomplished mainly because three months after his inauguration, he set out to inflate our dollar so that a man now drawing $12 a day thinks he is well off. That man thinks so because he doesn't have to pay the full rent of his living quarters, the rest being paid by the U. S. Treasury and local "authorities" out of his taxes. So he does get $12, or maybe $20 a day, though not regularly, but he has become a ward of the government with a terrible overhead for graft and ordinary bureaucracy.

If the government did not take so much of his earnings he could pay his own rent or buy his own house. However, that reform would disemploy hordes of parasite bureaucrats who keep the books, draw the plans and write the checks to pay the bureaucracy and so on, and on, and on. And we can not forget the hordes in internal revenue to check millions of tax returns for gyps and errors. They overlook nine out of ten in the lower brackets because it is more than they can do to go after individual offenders and usually a delinquency of $11.66. If every taxpayer would solemnly promise himself to make a deliberate arithmetical mistake of $20 in his own favor we could wreck this system and force Congress to drop the rates instead of raising its own pay 50 per cent as reward for writing a tax law so complex that the federal judge recently said he didn't know what it meant. The Internal Revenue would have a hell of a time making a fraud conviction stick against any defendant who should call that judge for witness and plead the Fifth Amendment for refusing to answer the questions on the form.

The Roosevelt platform promised "a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards and an international monetary conference to consider rehabilitation of silver and related questions." The sound currency was soon demolished by Roosevelt's own repudiation of the gold clause to flinch three billion for squandering on the Harold Ickes projects.

For all our squandering on "education" and the politico-intellectual pretensions of daily-wage workers, they think this is velvet although it is—

(This column is written each week by members of the Journalism Club of Kingston High School.)

THE SENIOR CLASS will inaugurate a Senior weekend May 19 and 20, which will include the annual Class Night and May Day.

The committee for Class Night, headed by Elaine Mac-holdt and Barbara Schwartz-berg, is busily arranging a humorous program of class history and prophecy, combined with a display of class talent.

Others on the committee include: Bill Marchetti, Sande Galate, Lois Brown, Nancy Ellsworth, Angie Weiss, Lee Barnett, Puss Dixon and Margaret Danford.

May 20 the Senior class will present May Day, including the crowning of the May Queen and the traditional winding of the Maypole.

The members of the Senior class hope this new idea will set a precedent for future years.

SIX STUDENTS representing KHS attended the annual Citizenship Conference at Syracuse University.

Students attending were Margaret Danford, Barbara Schwartzburg, Donald Ashdown, Vincent Coons, Elaine Schwartz and Ann Blinder. These students represented Kingston High School as the best citizens in the junior and senior classes.

They left Friday and returned Saturday night, staying at sorority and fraternity houses while in Syracuse.

The general theme of the conference was "How Various Citizen Groups Can Bring About Improvement Both Locally and State-Wide." Saturday there were round table discussion groups and scholarships to Syracuse University were awarded to 12 students attending the conference from all high schools in New York state.

Accompanying the KHS representatives on their trip were three members of the faculty, Arthur G. Kurtzacker, Harold Hathaway and Harry Streifer.

KUTCHER'S COUNTRY CLUB in Monticello, played host to the annual Key Club state convention Saturday and Sunday.

The KHS Key Clubbers who attended the convention were Bob Burns, Ben Beck, vice president elect; Bud Carpinelli, lieutenant governor of the Hudson Valley Division; Bill Ewing, John Snyder, secretary elect; Enno Tryer, Herb Kirchner and Richard Strong.

In addition to the many speakers and the Governor's Ball there was an oratorical contest in which John Snyder, the secretary elect of the KHS Key Club, participated.

FUTURE NURSES have been invited to make a tour of Vassar Hospital Poughkeepsie May 4. The student nurses of Vassar will be there to answer questions girls might have about nursing, and to show them the different parts of the hospital. Following the tour tea will be served.

FINAL JUDGING in the lamp contest was held April 26 in Poughkeepsie. It was sponsored by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. Judges in the Poughkeepsie final were three lighting experts.

At a luncheon for teachers and winners, presentation of prizes was made by Ernest Acker, president of Central Hudson.

Although Kingston has won this contest two out of four years, unfortunately they lost this year. Lawrence Kinstrey, first prize winner of Kingston, competed with 32 entries from other high schools in the entire area serviced by Central Hudson.

The electrical fixtures were furnished to the students by the company, but the completion into a finished lamp was the original work by the students.

Valatie Doctor Buys in Hurley

Dr. Harry C. McNamara, of Valatie, has purchased the former Abram Elmendorf estate in Hurley from Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brighton of North Merick, L. I. The new owners have taken title to the premises and have already moved into their new home.

Dr. McNamara, who is a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, plans to open an office in Kingston and begin his practice on or about May 10.

Dr. McNamara, who is a native of Valatie, was educated in the Martin H. Glynn High School in that village and is also a graduate of the Manlius Military Academy at Manlius. He studied at the college of medicine at the University of Vermont, where he obtained his BS degree and then did two years of rotating internship at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie. The doctor did residency training in obstetrics and gynecology at Long Island College Hospital, Brooklyn, New York and at Aquadilla District Charity Hospital in Aquadilla, Puerto Rico.

Dr. McNamara served three years in the United States Air Force and acted as chief of obstetrics and gynecology service at Ramey AFB, Puerto Rico. For the past six months he has been affiliated with the Horton Hospital at Middletown. He is married to the former Gerry Tomlins of Poughkeepsie and has three children.

Fluoridated Water

April 26, 1955

Editor, The Freeman:

After reading most of the pros and cons connected with the fluoridation issue, I feel prompted to ask Freeman readers to ask themselves a few pertinent questions regarding this highly controversial method of reducing tooth decay. As a mother of three children, I deserve to know why an increasing number of qualified physicians and dentists are opposed to the use of fluoride in drinking water.

I read all about the claims of a decrease in children's cavities in Newburgh in this paper a week ago. What I failed to read were statistics taken from the University of New York education report regarding Defects in Children signed by Dr. Phillip A. Kleiger, Md.

"Of 4,654 Newburgh pupils examined, 4,424 physical and dental defects were found compared with 5,208 Kingston pupils examined, 3,324 defects were found." With Newburgh reporting a 65 per cent reduction in tooth decay as claimed, it seems elementary that Newburgh should have shown a much lower rate of defects per child than Kingston. Instead, Newburgh has one of the highest percentages of physical defects per child. It is an obvious case of reducing tooth decay while increasing more serious physical defects.

Reports issued from the Kingston-Newburgh Artificial Fluoride Experiment conveniently neglect to mention the failure to conduct physical examinations of Newburgh adults with kidney and liver ailments and those suffering from heart disease and diabetes. Yet these people are also forced to drink fluoridated water and their ailments have shown a definite increase in Newburgh and other areas artificially fluoridated.

Why not reduce intake of sweets in our diet and brush teeth after each meal as recommended by the Ulster-Greene County Dental Society? This safer method reduces dental decay by the same percentages, though it may not be as profitable for those associated with aluminium companies who supply this poisonous waste product, sodium fluoride used in fluoridating water supplies.

Sincerely,
MRS. MARILYN SUSSIN

For Full Benefits of High Octane Gasoline you need Shell Premium with TCP

If certain engine deposits did not form inside your combustion chambers as a result of your daily, short-haul driving, any good high octane gasoline would do very well.

But because this kind of driving increases the build-up of these deposits, you need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

The reason is simply this:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time...before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Community Concerts Choose Claudio Arrau, Lisa Della Casa to Complete 1955-56 Series

Claudio Arrau, piano virtuoso, and Lisa Della Casa, Swiss-Italian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will complete the roster for the 1955-56 Community Concert Association series. Robert Shaw Choral and Orchestra was previously announced as one of the three concerts.

Choice of the artists was made known following the board of directors meeting at the close of the one-week membership campaign Saturday afternoon. The drive marked the fourth year the local association has been oversubscribed and expressions of appreciation to the workers came from Lloyd R. LeFever, president; Mrs. Reynolds B. Carr and Mrs. Bernard Forst, co-chairmen of the campaign.

MANY REGARD Claudio Arrau as the most flawless piano virtuoso of our era. He records for Columbia, Decca and RCA Records, and plays season after season with the major symphonies. Last January 6 he played Chopin's Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 1, E minor with the New York Philharmonic and a review in musical America reported "he performed with color and poetry as well as a phenomenal technical control."

Announcement was made in the Sunday New York papers of a rare cycle of four subscription recitals at Town Hall next October when Arrau will play the major solo piano literature of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart in celebration of the Mozart Bicentennial.

Lisa Della Casa made her Metropolitan debut in 1933 season and returned last fall to do several roles all of which were reported with great success. Since the first of the year, she has been in Europe where she is a regular soloist at such festivals as Salzburg, Bayreuth, Lucerne and Edinburgh. Her first New York recital was January 23 at Town Hall. She is described as one of the foremost interpreters of Strauss. Speaking of her four Strauss songs Musical America reports "Miss Della Casa conveyed their emotional intensity with sumptuous tone. For dynamic control and nuance, her singing of the haunting 'Im Abendrot' could hardly be matched, and a refined sense of phrasing and tonal color was at all times in evidence."

Olin Downes, N. Y. Times, says "An unusually beautiful voice and a fine sincerity and taste in interpretation, Miss Della Casa has youth, beauty and personal distinction. Her singing was of exceptional tonal beauty and she was never less than a true musician in whatever she did."

ALL MEMBERSHIPS for the series have been subscribed and those enrolled will receive their membership cards, admission to all three concerts, about six weeks before the first concert in the fall.

No Atomic Tanks, Autos

Washington, May 2 (AP)—A high defense official says "no practical possibilities" have shown up so far in the way of atomic engines for tanks, trucks or autos. Asst. Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles, in testimony to a House Appropriations Subcommittee made public today, said this is true because the engines being worked on are too big and heavy. But he said the program for atomic powered planes "is moving ahead strongly."

The Mature Parent

It's High Time Fathers Reclaimed Their Rights

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

After fertilizing the eggs of the female salmon, the male, figuring that life is over for him, dies. Male insects also follow this morbid instinct.

Is there resemblance between these self-deprecating creatures and the American father? An article in Cosmopolitan says there is. It thinks that our popular cartoons and TV portrayals of Dad as a well-meaning, but bumbling half-wit, are an accurate measure of our low esteem of him. It quotes this comment of a noted anthropologist: "In few societies is the role of father more vestigial than in the United States."

If the American father has renounced his rights in his own home, I don't wonder one bit. No other man in the world has been so harassed by talk of his family's rights.

To begin with, he'd been trained as an American to hate tyranny. So when the feminists called him tyrannical for refusing equal political rights to his wife, he got so nervous he gave her any right she wanted to claim.

Then along came the child psychologists with their demands for the rights of his children. When everybody's rights were finally settled, Dad woke up to find he hadn't any.

He's been solving his problem the only way he could. He's made himself cellar workshops, taken up hobbies, gone on fishing trips and joined men's clubs. He's made himself as scarce as possible from the home that regarded the good, old, self-assertive masculine roar as infringement on other people's rights.

Well, wiser people than I connect that banished roar to our statistics on divorce, juvenile delinquency and effeminacy.

As there's nothing like that banished, baritone roar for clearing homes of the sticky, overconscientious female emotionalism that drives mothers to make big productions out of nothing, it's badly missed.

Nor has it helped that Dad performs his work as a man away from home these days. Time was when his woman and children saw him in conquering action. They saw him hew logs into fences, gentle the mare, make the trade at the store and come back swinging when frost hit the crop he was counting on.

No more. Though Dad may be expressing the same resourcefulness and courage every day of his life, the person who sees him in conquering action is his secretary. The respect which his work as a man should be building in his wife and children is built into a stranger who doesn't need it.

The other day a distinguished psychiatrist said to me: "Today it is hard to be a man."

It's going to get even harder if fathers don't start reclaiming some of those rights they've handed over to their wives and children.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Two Faculty Members Receive Ford Awards

New Paltz May 1—Two members of the faculty of the New Paltz State Teachers College have received one-year fellowships from the Fund for the Advancement of Education of the Ford Foundation, it was announced today.

They are Robert L. Swain, professor of mathematics, and Mrs. Vera R. Irwin, associate professor of drama.

Only 138 fellowships were awarded throughout the country, with 15 in this state. New Paltz was the only New York state teachers college to receive an award. Professors Swain and Irwin will be on leave from their duties at the local college during 1955-56.

Professor Swain will spend some time at Michigan State University, the University of Toronto, Harvard University and the University of Indiana. His project involves "the exploration of ways in which geometric subject matter may be utilized to enrich college mathematics courses, so as to increase the value in a liberal education program."

Mrs. Irwin will spend the first half of the year chiefly in New York city and at Yale University. In the second half of the year she will visit Northwestern University and then will make her headquarters in Los Angeles. She will spend time at both the University of California at Los Angeles and at Stanford University. Mrs. Irwin described her project informally as "seeing plays and reading plays." Officially, the project is "to study drama as a living art concentrating upon the existing interrelation of the technical and literary aspects."

New Paltz has had two other winners of Ford fellowships. Several years ago, Alfred B. Rollins, associate professor of history, received a fellowship. And this year, Richard Ordway, associate professor of geology and astronomy, has been doing field work in Nevada and advanced study at the University of California at Berkeley.

A man in his carefree bachelor days, had been very fond of a Washington restaurant which specialized in waffles with honey. Year after year he had journeyed to the place to get the delectable viand; so, when he finally married, he decided to take his wife there, in order to share the pleasure with her. He did not tell her what was coming; merely ordering an excellent meal, with two orders of waffles.

The meal came, the waffles came; but there were two small pitchers of near-maple syrup, and no honey.
He called the waitress over, and whispered, loud enough for his wife to hear.
Diner—Where's my honey?
The waitress beamed intelligently.
Waitress—She's on her vacation now, sir.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

The Tax Foundation, Inc., has figured out how much of an eight-hour day a $4300-a-year man must work to pay for food, housing, taxes, etc.

He starts work at 8 a. m. As taxes must be paid ahead of all other claims, let's get them out of the way first. They include Federal income, local property taxes, and all sorts of sales taxes that are hidden in the cost of everything he or his family buys. By working, with no time off for anything whatever, he has his taxes paid in two hours and 32 minutes, or at 10:32 a. m.

Next comes food. It takes one hour and 36 minutes and brings him up to noon.

After an hour spent in eating lunch and telling his pals that taxes don't bother him because the rich guys and corporations pay them, he starts in on housing at 1 p. m. This takes one hour and 24 minutes, which brings him to half-past two.

After that, 36 minutes for clothing for the family, including a new hat for his wife; and then 42 minutes for transportation, automobile, gasoline, etc.: 23 minutes for medical care; 20 minutes for recreation of all kinds for himself, wife and kids. This leaves 25 minutes for the odds and ends, whereupon the 5 o'clock whistle blows.

On the way home, it doesn't occur to him that of all the time he spent working for the things he wants, or must have, the greatest amount of time (30%) for any single item went to pay his taxes. If he'd known, he wouldn't be whistling such a happy tune.

Eh, neighbor?

Will and Oswald

By FRANK TRIPP

When the ducks flew back north one spring many years ago there was one of them that settled in our Seneca Lake cove, Will Gardner's cove, to be exact. It became a pet and Will named it Oswald.

Oswald stayed on and on. Many flocks of ducks flew over but Oswald did not join their flight. He remained secluded by night, we knew not where, but daily appeared close to the shore back of Will's shop and the two of them whistled up a surprising acquaintance.

Of course, as all confidences begin with dumb creatures, first it was the food that Will cast upon the water for Oswald. Pretty soon, the daring bird would regularly appear just after sunrise only a few feet off Will's beach; for Will was up and doing with the birds and Oswald learned it.

Others tried to lure Oswald to their beaches but he only let their offerings float far offshore before he showed any interest in them. With Will, it was different. He came and waited, as close in as ten feet, for the friendly little man to toss his bread upon the waters.

I OFTEN WATCHED the early morning ceremony and marveled at it. The times that I tried to join the party, as soon as I appeared, Oswald took to his wings, flew well out into the lake, and only returned cautiously when I was out of sight and he could be alone with Will.

The nature students on the point concluded that Oswald had suffered some injury which caused his desertion of his flock. I guess that was right, for he could have found far better feeding grounds many places along Seneca, had he deserted for some social reason.

But once he found Will Gardner he need not scurry for food or company. A wild bird had found a friend. As did every dumb animal that came into Will's 85 years of friendliness for every living thing, and everybody.

All humans in Will's little world knew this, but how did a wild duck know it? Will's food would have floated out to safety, as did the offerings of others.

MAYBE IT IS maudlin and sentimental, but I have always compared the antics of Oswald and the acts of Will to man's prevailing ways of giving alms; the contrast of the personal and the impersonal gift—gifts from the heart as contrasted with gifts from the purse; warmth versus duty.

Will had little to give, but he gave it ungrudgingly. Most always it was sharing rather than giving. He got an immediate reward through seeing his little gifts enjoyed, his deed appreciated.

He was mighty proud that Oswald trusted him. He would take toast from his own breakfast and cast it upon the waters for Oswald.

I SAID THAT he gave ungrudgingly, which isn't exactly true, for Will would do twice as much, and more happily, for an Oswald than for an unseen, unknown sufferer, to whom he could give money. That to him was a lazy, ugly way of being friendly.

Alas, poor Oswald's suspicion of mankind proved well founded. An out-of-season poacher, we like to think more thoughtful than cruel, shot Will's duck and put him in a pot for dinner.

And Will grieved for months for Oswald. (Copyright, 1955, General Features Corporation)

Keep Many Things From Opponent

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Many pairs failed to make four hearts with the North-South cards shown today when the hand was dealt in the recent Eastern Championships in New York. Their trouble was that they were too scientific.

There was, of course, no problem when West opened a diamond. Declarer could run three diamonds, discarding a spade from his hand, and could then take the king of hearts and finesse a heart. When the finesse succeeded, South was practically cold for 11 tricks, losing only the two black aces. When the hand was actually bid and played in the tournament, many South players raised the response of two clubs to three clubs. The trouble with this bid is that it doesn't really tell North about the scattered strength in each suit; but it does tell the defenders that North and South have about 8 or 9 clubs in the combined hands.

When this "scientific" bid was made, South got to four hearts but went down. West, fully informed about the clubs, opened the ace of clubs. He continued with the ten of clubs, giving East a ruff, and asking for a return in the higher of the side suits. (West would have led his

ENGLISH SPARROWS

English sparrows were imported into the U. S. about 1850. In England the same bird is called a house sparrow—but actually the bird is a weaver finch and from an entirely different family. The "sparrows" were brought into the country to kill foliage-eating caterpillars, but soon they did damage of their own by eating important seeds.

ENGLISH SPARROWS

English sparrows were imported into the U. S. about 1850. In England the same bird is called a house sparrow—but actually the bird is a weaver finch and from an entirely different family. The "sparrows" were brought into the country to kill foliage-eating caterpillars, but soon they did damage of their own by eating important seeds.

City League Sees Possibility Of Six Franchises This Season

Tuesday Meeting To Have Answer

Seeking two additional teams to round out a field of six, City Baseball League officials and managers meet Tuesday night at 7:30, president Fred Davi said today.

The four teams definitely set to go are Jones Dairy, Nadler Motors, Dobler Beer and New York Panthers.

The league hopes to recruit a fifth squad and perhaps a sixth, from the Olive Merchants and a new combine headed by Jack Watzka and John Davis.

If the league operates with six franchises it will be the first time in several years. The twilight circuit has been pretty much of a five-team loop in recent years.

Davi said there was keen interest shown at the initial organization meeting and he predicts a much stronger and better balanced league for the 1955 campaign.

Nazaruk Killed In Accident at Langhorne Track

Langhorne, Pa., May 2 (AP)—Mike Nazaruk, one of the nation's top auto racing drivers was killed yesterday when his Offenhauser rammed through a fence during a 30-mile race at the Langhorne, Speedway turned over four times and burst into flame.

The 33-year-old North Bellmore, N. Y. driver was doing better than 100 miles an hour when his racer hit the backstretch fence on the 16th lap. The car then ricocheted on the track and careened through the fence 100 yards farther along before coming to rest in a field.

THE IMPACT tore the safety straps from the car and most of his clothes from his body. He was thrown from the car on its first roll. Dr. William L. Goldfarb, deputy coroner of Bucks county, said Nazaruk died of a broken neck, severance of the jugular vein and multiple injuries.

Nazaruk, an entry in this year's Indianapolis 500 mile race had finished second in that Memorial Day classic in 1951 and was fifth last year when the first five cars to complete the grind broke the track record.

Nazaruk was the second Indianapolis entrant to die here this season, Larry Crockett of Columbus, Ind., "rookie of the year" in the 1954 Indianapolis race after finishing ninth, was killed March 10.

Moore Battles Valdes In Las Vegas Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE The Associated Press

Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore and Cuba's Nino Valdes, each yearning for a crack at heavyweight ruler Rocky Marciano, clash tonight in a nontitle 15-round bout in Las Vegas, Nev.

Both put up a loud holler when Marciano by-passed them in favor of England's Don Cockell. The two then agreed to battle it out so that the winner could put the pressure on the heavyweight champion for a September title bout.

The 38-year-old Moore, winner of 19 straight fights over a three-year span, is a 2-1 favorite to beat the 30-year-old Cuban, now the No. 1 heavyweight contender, for the second time. Archie, a 6-footer outpointed the 6-3 Cuban giant in a St. Louis 10-rounder, March 11, 1953. The bout will not be broadcast or telecast.

RONNIE DELANEY, the once-beaten middleweight contender from Akron, Ohio, is a 4-1 favorite to beat Virgil Akins of St. Louis in a 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight (Dumont-TV, 9 p. m., EST). A southpaw, Delaney has a 49-13 record. Akins' record is 26-13-1.

In the rival television bout of the night, Brooklyn's Carmelo Costa, sixth ranking featherweight contender, is a 4-1 choice over 22-year-old Tony Puleo, another Brooklynite, for their 10-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena (ABC-TV, 9 p. m., EST). Puleo's record is 8-3-2. Costa, 20, has a 25-2-3 record.

HAROLD JOHNSON, leading light heavyweight contender, is a 2-1 favorite to make it two straight over Cuba's Julio Mederos in the Philadelphia Arena Friday night (9 p. m., EST, NBC-TV and radio). Johnson, from Philadelphia, outpointed the Cuban heavyweight in Miami last Dec. 7. Johnson's record is 51-7. Mederos' record is 17-8-2.

Sugar Ray Robinson, winner of two straight since his defeat by Ralph (Tiger) Jones, should make it three in a row Wednesday night against fading Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in the Detroit Olympia.

The bout will not be broadcast or telecast. The weekly Wednesday night network television fight show will be replaced this week by a dramatic production in the usual one-in-four weeks rotation.

KEENEY TERAN of Los Angeles and Mexico's Memo Diez meet in a 12-rounder for the North American flyweight title Wednesday night in the Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Maroons Hit the Road

Kingston Nine Plays Arlington and Blues

Having gained an even split in Kingston High's first two baseball outings, Coach Bill Burke looked forward with confidence to the remaining 10 games on the 1955 schedule.

"We aren't out of this yet," said the Maroon mentor after watching his charges drop a 6-0 decision to Newburgh Academy and sensational Billy Short last Thursday.

"We can beat that club (NFA) when they come to Kingston," he added. And that would be the crux of the brief DUSO campaign.

TWO STIFF road engagements—Tuesday at Arlington and Thursday with Poughkeepsie—are scheduled this week.

Pitching generally was on the optimistic side in the first two engagements with Arlington and NFA.

Alo Saluste pitched four strong innings against Arlington and Jack Houghtaling would have battled Billy Short on scoreless terms but for two unearned runs at Newburgh.

The hitting has been adequate and figures to get stronger. True, the Maroons collected only three safeties off Short but Billy the Kid was just too hot for any high school team that day.

Bob Maines shows a .500 batting average for the two games with 6 for 3, including a pair of triples. Joey Hoffman and Ronnie Ashdown each have a pair of hits to their credit.

ARLINGTON HIGH is traditionally tough on its home grounds but this looks like a resourceful Maroon squad that could win the remainder of its games.

With Houghtaling probably shelved until Thursday, Burke will choose from among Maines, Giannuzzi and Saluste for the Arlington starter.

Other high school activity finds the tennis squad entertaining the DUSO champions of Newburgh Academy today at 4:30 p. m. at Hutton Park. Coach Ken Brown's netmen travel to Monticello Thursday.

The golf team was scheduled to launch its season today at Middletown and will follow up with a match against Poughkeepsie Wednesday at 4 p. m. at Twaalfskill.

Harriman Signs Bill For New Dream Track

Albany, May 2 (AP)—The Jockey Club's dream of a super track at Belmont Park is off and running.

Gov. Harriman over the weekend signed bi-partisan bills permitting the Jockey Club to organize a merger of the four thoroughbred horse racing associations into a single non-profit agency to build the modern track at Belmont.

He signed another bill allowing public employees and political party officers to hold horse-racing licenses if they had such permits before April 6, 1954.

UNDER THE DREAM track law the non-profit agency can take over the management of Belmont, Saratoga, Jamaica and Aqueduct, the four flat tracks in the state.

The agency plans to borrow 45 million dollars and use about half of it to establish the model plant at Belmont. Direct rail connection would be provided and the track would be modernized and enlarged.

Immediate improvements also are planned at Saratoga. Either Jamaica or Aqueduct is slated to be closed. The other is to be improved eventually.

The state will continue to take its share of the pari-mutuel pool. But under the voluntary-participation track merger the operators' profits would be used to repay the loan or be plowed back into the tracks.

The Jockey Club says it is seeking to meet the competition from modern tracks in New Jersey.

HUGHES FIRES THREE-UNDER 67 In Twaalfskill Sweepstakes. George Hughes, the Ulster county amateur golf champion, fired a three-under-par 67 to lead the weekend competition at Twaalfskill golf club.

The break in weather produced heavy activity at the club, with 70 golfers competing in the Saturday sweepstakes and an additional 60 turning out for Sunday's event.

John Bechtold Hits 531 Series In Central Mixer

John Bechtold's 531, with 203-165-163, was high series in the Central Rec Mixed League last night. Joe Coughlin rolled high single of 213.

Mary Bonacci paced the distaff department with 527 on lines of 178, 170 and 179.

Marie Bechtold shot 439, Joe Coughlin 213-503, Warner Miller 460, Jack Ennis 462.

New York Duo Hits 1343 Score

Elmira, May 2 (AP)—A New York city team leads today the doubles event in the New York State men's bowling tournament with the largest score racked up since 1941.

J. Bagley and H. Jurist accomplished the feat over the weekend by smashing 1,343 pins in the championship division. A 48-point handicap also gave them a sizeable lead in the handicap division with 1,391.

Another New York city team, R. Fassl and E. Botten, won the championship in 1941 with a score of 1,367.

Other first-place actual and handicap leaders remained unchanged as the tournament moved into its seventh full week. It ends the week of May 30.
